

The core challenge before us has always been to make the delivery of curriculum as convenient and impactful as regular classroom learning, especially for students who require flexibility. Our objective has been to create a well-structured and organized extended learning model that enables students to balance their academic growth with other responsibilities.

In today's digital era, reaching students through online platforms has proven to be an effective way to deliver academic resources without being restricted by geographic boundaries. With this approach, students can access study materials, take internal assessments, and benefit from support services, all from the comfort of their own space.

Inspired by the vision of inclusive education highlighted in the National Policy on Education, we at the All India Council for Open Education (AICOE) have taken the initiative to offer non-formal academic support programs at the Pre-Secondary and Pre-Senior Secondary levels. These programs are designed and administered by our autonomous educational trust with a mission to promote learning among self-motivated individuals in India and abroad.

AICOE provides an accessible and learner-friendly approach. After admission, students receive internal study materials, and support is available in multiple languages to ensure wider accessibility. The process of registration is simple, and students receive a unique enrolment number upon admission. Internal performance records are maintained and made verifiable through our online systems.

It is important to clarify that AICOE operates as an independent and autonomous educational initiative. We are not affiliated with any government-recognized education board or council, and our programs are non-formal in nature, intended for academic development and self-learning support. We do not claim equivalence with any government-recognized certification and do not guarantee eligibility for formal education progression or employment based on our certificates.

Our journey is grounded in a sincere mission — to promote educational opportunity and academic motivation using flexible, alternative approaches. We are proud of the way our efforts have reached learners across India and beyond, and we remain committed to making education accessible, supportive, and learner-centered.
